

Canada Full Search

More certainty, less brand risk

With thousands of new trademarks registered in Canada annually, the risk of infringement has never been greater. Performing a thorough search of any new trademark, business name or domain name is essential to reduce the risk of a conflict that could cost millions in litigation costs and lost marketing investments.

Our Canada Full Search is the solution. It's the industry gold standard, providing unparalleled coverage and quality to give you the certainty to make trademark investments with confidence.

Comprehensive coverage

We search for identical and confusingly similar marks for all goods and services across Canadian trademark databases and other primary sources. We even cross-reference against international trademark records, flagging marks filed outside Canada. Broader coverage means reduced risk of missing critical findings. Search results are available in French or English.

Reliable content

Good decisions require good data. Our dedicated quality team checks and cross-references every CIPO record before it enters our database to catch errors. So you can have the confidence that comes from searching the industry's most accurate and up-to-date source data.

Common law depth and breadth

To deliver the most relevant results, we search both traditional and online sources – including general and industry-specific databases and websites; domain names, including .ca and the new gTLDs; and leading search engine, Google™.
