Quick Start Guide

July 2022

What is PowerProfiles?

PowerProfiles leverage proprietary data drawn from value-based contracts to provide insight into the shared-risk strategies of provider organizations, including integrated delivery networks and physician organizations.

Each PowerProfile explores the degree to which an organization bears financial risk for clinical quality and patient outcomes, analyzes participation in alternative payment models, displays the characteristics of a payer, and demonstrates commitment to overall population health. Implications for pharmaceutical companies and payers and key takeaways round out each profile.

PowerProfiles assess six different themes:

- ✓ The level of risk: how accountable the provider organization is under its value-based contracts with consideration to finance and quality
- ✓ The amount of lives for whom the provider organization bears risks
- ✓ The key players of who the provider organization is partnered with for risk agreements
- ✓ The level of innovation: what the provider organization is doing to move toward fee for value
- ✓ The level of integration: how close the provider organization is to a self-contained system
- ✓ The footprint: regionally based, where it operates

June 2022: Franciscan ACO transitions to Pathways to Success model, assumes high risk

Franciscan MSSP ACO has transitioned to the Enhanced track of the Pathways to Success model, which is the highest risk-bearing track, assuming sharing in 75 percent of savings or losses generated. Moreover, the IDN has generated $26.6 million in savings and earned $13.3 million in shared savings for the 2020 performance year. The ACO achieved a 100 percent quality score with the help of its care coordination and population health management techniques. Look for the IDN to accelerate its participation in risk-bearing contracts with payers and employers in future.
