

Grow your business

Identify new clients for your custom synthesis projects or manufacturing services by scouting for new APIs.

Find and prioritize new business opportunities.

Accelerate growth

Proactively boost your business across global markets by identifying opportunities early on.

Intelligent prospecting

Pinpoint new business candidates that match your capabilities or which could require your intermediates.

Engage with confidence

Ensure you're fully informed about an API or a company's pipeline before approaching a potential new client.

Increased efficiency

Reduce time and effort spent hunting for business intel, so you can free up valuable time to focus on selling.

Intelligence you can trust

Accessible information

Access integrated chemistry, organic synthesis and drug pipeline information in one place.

Indexed knowledge

Leverage timely and reliable information, that's manually extracted, summarized and indexed from multiple sources by our scientific experts.

Powerful search

Find APIs under development that are a good fit for your services and expertise: search by chemical structure, molecule type (e.g. antibody-drug conjugates), reaction type, development phase and much more.

Stay informed

Review routes of synthesis and track APIs to stay updated on progress through the pipeline.

Expert team

- Scientific expertise spanning medicinal chemistry, synthetic chemistry, pharmacology and more.
- PhD- and MD-level research professionals with 25+ years of experience.

Reliable, enriched data

Search by drug name, disease areas, chemical structure and more, and drill down to the answers you need with over 20 granular filters and data indexed using controlled vocabulary lists.

Integrated insights

Use Cortellis Drug Discovery Intelligence™ together with Cortellis Generics Intelligence to identify and validate the manufacturers of launched APIs as potential clients for your intermediates.

Scientific perspective

Leverage the most comprehensive scientific pipeline database available, covering pipeline data, patents, literature and conferences.

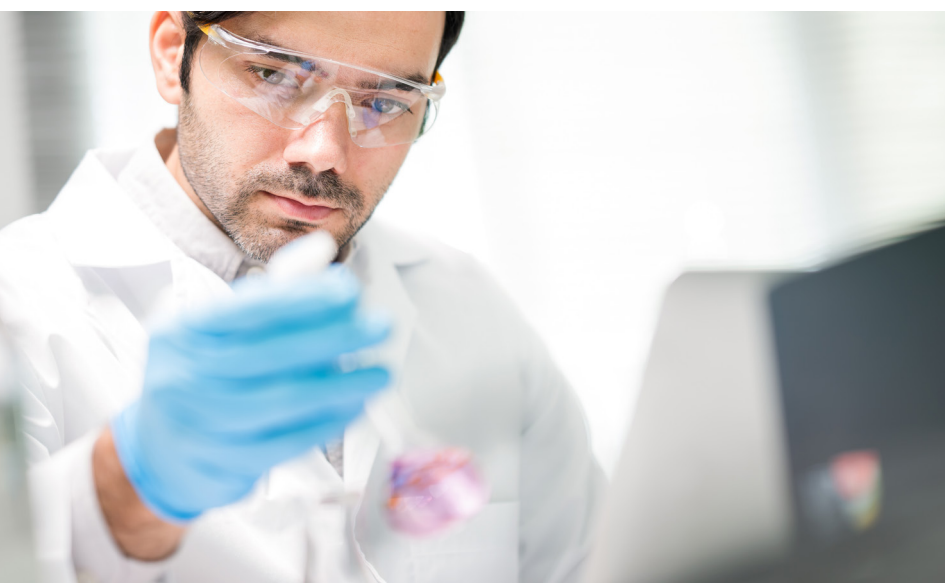

Alerts

Never miss any changes in the landscape or new entrants by setting up alerts, delivered straight to your inbox.

Global support.

Live chat and 24h support, Monday to Friday, from our product specialists and subject matter experts.

"Having access to such good data and information makes finding targets and customers for our products much easier."

Alan Walker,
Marketing and Business Development, Kaneka.

"By reducing the time and money spent on manually compiling and tracking all drug development research, we have freed up resources to focus on more value-added work."

Sam Vine,
Head of Bulk Sales, Apollo Scientific.
