“IADR was pleased to collaborate with the Conference Repository team in the development of a user friendly Conference Repository for our members. In 2020, the ability to offer presenters the option to upload their presentation files to accompany their abstracts in the repository, working through the ScholarOne Abstracts Speaker Management tool, has been an added benefit to our members. As the Conference Repository continues to become more robust, allowing uploads of various file formats and video files, it continues to add value to our members’ experience.”
