

Setting up alerts on individual product and company records

Alerts are email notifications you can set up to monitor updates in product and company records; they will notify you about new data available or changes to existing information. This means that you can carry on with your daily activities while Cortellis Product Intelligence keeps an eye on your products of interest and sends you updates.

1. Type the name of the product in the Quick Search bar and select from the list.

2. Once in product record, click the alert icon at the top right.

3. A new window will open listing types of updates you can monitor, either new or changes to: API manufacturers, regulatory filings, US approvals, deals and more. Simply select the items you wish receive alerts on and click 'Save'. You'll find similar alerts are available from company reports.
4. Alerts on content updates are sent on Fridays to your registered email address. Frequency will vary depending on the data set; please refer to the Release Notes for more information.

5. To edit, switch off or delete alerts go to Alerts Dashboard from the toolbar on the left:
