

Find reliable sources of API with Cortellis Product Intelligence

Questions you need to answer:

- Who has experience manufacturing my API?
- Are there sufficient suppliers available to manufacture my API?
- To which markets can this manufacturer supply?
- Who can serve as an alternate supplier in case there is a supply chain disruption?

Common challenges:

- Evaluating competitors and potential business partners based on incomplete data.
- Using unreliable sources like conferences, industry contacts, and news portals to identify API manufacturers.
- Loss of revenue due to inaccurate data and poor selection of API sources

3 steps

Find your answers with Cortellis Product Intelligence

1. Identify manufacturers associated to your API.
2. Confirm their experience with more regulated markets like Europe and the USA.
3. Understand their level of production.

1. Identify manufacturers associated to your API

Once in the product record, go to the API Manufacturers tab to find names of companies, manufacturing status, regulatory filings, and other details.
