

Application form

2021 Eugene Garfield Award for Innovation in Citation Analysis

Please send a standard CV; 2 letters of recommendation (for those not holding a tenured/tenure track position, one of the two letters shall be from a senior member of the department); and the application form below to GarfieldAward@clarivate.com no later than 11:00 pm US Eastern Daylight time Friday June 25, 2021.

Application Form

- Name, Contact Information
- Current Position/Title
- Current School/Institution
- PhD Institution & Year of PhD
- Research Description (no more than 2 pages)
 - Please describe your overall research program, including objectives, methodology and originality to your discipline. Please include how you have used citation analysis to further information retrieval, research assessment and/or the study of the Science of Science™.
 - Please list relevant research outputs, including the Web of Science IDs and/or DOIs (where possible).
- Project Proposal (no more than 3 pages)
 - Please describe the project you will undertake if you are selected for this award, including the objectives, methodology and any challenges you anticipate. Describe the potential outcomes of the project, including how your work could have impact beyond the field of scientometrics and information retrieval, and how your work may present any commercial opportunities.