

Techstreet Enterprise

A powerful web platform that brings you transparency and efficiency and puts you in control of how you manage standards

Top 3 reasons customers choose Techstreet Enterprise

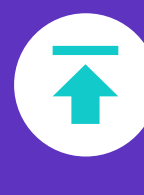

1 Gain unparalleled insight and cost control

Access on-demand reports to track standards usage and optimize spend

Build custom content collections with the most relevant and current standards

Easily update your standards library as needs change and evolve

2 Save time and increase productivity

Search quickly and easily with our intuitive, user-friendly interface

Improve productivity with intelligent workflow tools

Access expert customer support whenever you need it

3 Stay compliant with ever-changing standards requirements

Track standards changes easily with redlines and historical back-file access

Receive critical updates on revised standards with custom alerts

Share documents and links to keep stakeholders informed

“Techstreet understands the standards world inside and out.”

Dawn Murphy, Senior Document Controller, Weatherford International

550,000+

Industry codes and standards available through Techstreet, one of the world's largest collections

130,000+

Global Techstreet Enterprise users from corporations, government and academic institutions

150+

Standards publishers who provide their standards content through Techstreet

22+

Years Techstreet has been serving the standards community

Rapidly expanding

According to leading information research firm, Outsell, Techstreet is the world's fastest growing reseller of technical standards

To learn more about Techstreet Enterprise, visit: techstreet.com/subscriptions